

Central Harlem Senior Citizens' Centers, Inc.
Book Club

A Cupboard Full of Coats By: Yvette Edwards

Date: October 11, 2013

Time: 10AM-12PM

Kennedy Center

34 West 134th Street (Lower level)

Plagued by guilt, paralyzed by shame, Jinx has spent the years since her mother's death alone, estranged from her husband, withdrawn from her son, and entrenched in a childhood home filled with fierce and violent memories. When Lemon, an old family friend, appears unbidden at the door, he seduces Jinx with a heady mix of powerful storytelling and tender care. What follows is a tense and passionate weekend, as the two join forces to unravel the tragedy that binds them. Jinx has long carried the burden of the past; now, she must relive her mother's last days, confront her grief head-on, and speak the truth as only she knows it.

Expertly woven and perfectly paced, A Cupboard Full of Coats is both a heart-breaking family drama and a riveting mystery, with a cast of characters who linger in the mind and the heart long after the last page has been turned.

Deborah Stuckey: 212 926-4871